TEAM BUILDING and TEAMWORK in HEALTHCARE

- Why Team Building is Important in Long Term Care
- Impact of Effective Team on Quality of Care
- Multidisciplinary Team in Healthcare Setting
- Coordinate and Collaborate with Medical Professionals
- Keys to Building an Effective Team
- Communication and Coordinating Goals
- Collaborative Mindset
- Sharing Core Values and Principles
- Core Values Inherent in a Team
- Shared Goals and Clear Roles
- Effective Communication
- Measurable Processes and Outcomes
- Effective Leadership
- Teamwork Improvements Scope
    - Clinical outcomes
    - Increase workplace satisfaction
    - Provide crucial peer support during stressful situations
    - Reduce medical errors
    - Reduce caregiver burnout
    - Increases patient safety
- Positive Effects of Team Building in Healthcare
    - Adapt more quickly to sudden changes in patients' conditions
    - Each treatment or procedure is conducted more efficiently
    - Effective communication channels between all interdisciplinary team members, such as physicians, nurses, CNAs
    - Enable caregivers to share ideas and experiences that will allow them to grow professionally with the team.